

ITALIAN NAVY BOMBARDS THE TRIPOLITAN DEFENSES

Light House is Battered Down, But the Turkish Batteries Have Not Been Silenced—Firing Renewed.

BULLETIN.

Berlin, Oct. 4.—The Lokal Anzeiger publishes a report that the Italians have bombarded Prevesa.

BOMBARDMENT OF TRIPOLI.

Rome, Oct. 4.—It is officially stated today that Vice Admiral Faravelli sent a message to the government stating that the bombardment of the main batteries at Tripoli commenced at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and continued until sunset. The batteries replied to the Italian fire without effect. The admiral intimates that the bombardment will be resumed today in order to completely destroy the batteries. The greatest care was taken by the Italian gunners to avoid damaging the buildings of the town.

Only a lighthouse and one of the batteries were destroyed. The dispatch to the government was timed at Tripoli at 7:45 o'clock last night.

The message to the government from Vice Admiral Faravelli was as follows: "On board the battleship Benedetto Brin, Tuesday 7:45 p. m."

"A bombardment was commenced at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon upon the principal batteries of Tripoli and was continued until sunset. The batteries responded to the Italian fire but without effect. The bombardment will be continued tomorrow until the destruction of the batteries has been completed."

"Great care was taken during the bombardment not to damage the city. Only a lighthouse upon one of the batteries was destroyed."

All reports that the bombardments of Tripoli are causing great destruction must be discredited. It is announced here, until given official confirmation. The three admirals of the blockade have instructions to avoid unnecessary damage and limit their action to silencing the Turkish batteries and forcing the garrison to surrender or evacuate.

ITALY WILL LAND LARGE ARMY.

Rome, Oct. 4.—Italy proposes to land nearly 40,000 men in Tripoli within a week and to begin operations immediately. The expedition includes provisions of all kinds.

The Turkish prisoners in Italy, who already number more than 500, will be assembled in the large barracks near Caserta. The soldiers and sailors will be watched by sentinels under the discipline of their own officers and will enjoy considerable liberty. All will be well treated.

STRIKE BREAKERS APPEAL TO BE TAKEN FROM M'COMB

Presence of Military Guard Does Not Hold Disorder in Check and the Non-Union Men Fear for Their Lives.

McComb City, Miss., Oct. 4.—Notwithstanding the presence of several companies of troops sent here to protect them, the 103 Illinois Central strike-breakers barricaded here, appealed to the railroad authorities today to remove them immediately from McComb City. A mass meeting of citizens, strikers and sympathizers adopted resolutions assuring strike-breakers against molestation if they departed today. A special train will leave here with the men, accompanied by 25 railroad special agents this afternoon for New Orleans.

Col. E. B. Bauer, of Natchez, in active command of the troops here, at noon ordered that every member of the national guard at Natchez who failed to join his command this morning be arrested and sent immediately to McComb City. A platoon of Natchez troops with machine guns will arrive this afternoon.

SOME DETAILS OF THE TROUBLE

FIREARMS AND DYNAMITE.

McComb City, Miss., Oct. 4.—State troops patrolling the streets of McComb City had curbed rioting that began late yesterday with an attack on strike-breakers enroute south on the Illinois Central and culminated early this morning in the killing of a railroad striker and an explosion of dynamite planted near the railroad shops.

It was discovered today that Carl Canton and Trudy Curtis, both strikers, were shot and badly wounded during the night while walking near the Illinois Central shops. They were removed to their homes. There is no clue as to their assailants.

The non-union men were escorted out of town this morning by citizens of McComb City, who openly proclaim that "it ain't healthy in this town for scabs."

Strike-Breakers Fear Attack.

A squad of 125 strike-breakers huddled in one of the railroad company buildings under a heavy guard spent a restless night, fearing an attack at any time from the outside.

It is said the railroad company will bring in more strike-breakers today. It is not improbable that Lem

TRAIN IS HELD UP IN OKLAHOMA

Bandits Take Possession and Do Business With Express Cars.

SPARED PASSENGERS

Bartlesville, Okla., Oct. 4.—Missouri, Kansas and Texas passenger train No. 20 from Kansas City to Oklahoma was held up by three masked men early today near Okesa, ten miles south of here.

The robber rifled the mail and baggage cars, but it is believed got little of value. They did not enter the passenger cars and escaped as soon as they had finished their work.

Two trunks full of valuable jewelry belonging to a salesman for an eastern firm were put on the train here, but it has not been learned whether or not they were stolen.

A special train carrying a sheriff's posse and bloodhounds has left here for the scene of the robbery.

The hold-up took place in a new cut. Workmen had recently laid the track and the train was running slowly. Suddenly four shots were fired in rapid succession and the engineer and fireman saw three masked men climbing over the tender, pointing revolvers at them. James Myers, engineer, was ordered to stop the train, which came to a standstill just at the edge of a trestle.

After firing several more shots in the air the bandits compelled Swift Enky, the fireman, to uncouple the baggage and express cars and run them down the tracks several yards from the remainder of the train. The robbers fled after spending fifteen minutes going through the baggage and express cars. The train continued on its way.

Indianapolis, Oct. 4.—"This is the day of engineers, and we women must be the social engineers," declared Mrs. O. N. Mrs. Guldlin's plea was for a more helpful interest in the working women of the country, and she told her hearers that they were responsible for the welfare of their working sisters.

Bold Robbery at Ann Arbor Follows Tuition Day at University.

FLY AFTER BATTLE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 4.—The opening day tuition receipts at the University of Michigan, amounting to thousands of dollars narrowly escaped falling into the sack of safe-blowers and $500 was actually lost when the vault in the treasurer's office was forced early today. Night Watchman Armbruster came upon the three robbers at their work and engaged in a pistol battle with them as they fled. They disappeared but are being trailed by a posse of deputy sheriffs and police. Fortunately yesterday's heavy receipts were removed to a local bank late in the afternoon. When the Watchman Armbruster entered the office after hearing the noise of the explosion he was greeted by a volley of revolver shots but was not hit. After emptying his revolver without hitting any of the intruders he fled and the cash drawer lying on the table.

PRESIDENT SEES WILD WEST SHOW

People of Cheyenne Give Mr. Taft Novel Treat in That City.

REPEAT EARLY SHOW

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 4.—President Taft saw a bit of the wild west today. Cheyenne did not merely watch him drive through her streets and listen to presidential oratory, but "frontier day" with bucking bronchos, wild races and the "stunts" which abound in wild west shows were repeated for the president's benefit.

The reception committee made the show as nearly as possible like that held a few weeks ago and 65 performers of all sorts appeared before Mr. Taft. In addition to the show the president's program here included an automobile ride through the city, a review of troops and an address in the local opera house.

His train is scheduled to make two more stops in Wyoming today and should reach Salt Lake City, Utah, tomorrow.

PARTIES ARE ELIMINATED.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 4.—Only one ticket will be in the field at the local election Nov. 7, in Riverside city, near Muncie. Democrats and republicans gathered in convention and nominated this ticket. "We can't see what a man's politics has to do with running a community like this in a business way," said Lance Coons, the convention chairman.

NOT GOING TO GIVE UP, SAYS AVIATOR RODGERS

Bird Man in Fort Wayne Says Delays and Accidents Do Not Discourage Him in Coast-to-Coast Flight.

Regardless of accidents and delays that have thrown him considerably behind his schedule, Aviator C. P. Rodgers declared in Fort Wayne today that he had no intention of abandoning his coast-to-coast flight across the United States in a biplane.

"No matter what the other entrants in the contest conclude to do," said Mr. Rodgers to The Sentinel, "I am going to push on westward as soon as repairs are completed to my machine at Huntington."

The aviator said he hoped to be able to resume his journey tomorrow. In the official touring car of the expedition and accompanied by two newspaper men and a representative of the commercial concern which is backing Rodgers in his attempt to win a prize of $50,000 for a flight from New York to San Francisco, Aviator Rodgers came to Fort Wayne last night and was a guest at the Anthony hotel. Enroute to this city the auto went wrong and the party was delayed for some hours on the Zanesville road while auto experts from this city were summoned to coax the car into action again.

"I just came over to see the town," was Aviator Rodgers' explanation of his visit to Fort Wayne. He has been delayed at Huntington since Monday, when his biplane was badly wrecked just as he was leaving that city in the resumption of his flight westward. The aviator said he hoped to have the machine completely repaired today, but meantime he motored here to have a look at Fort Wayne. After a late breakfast at the Anthony the party returned to Huntington.

Rodgers is a tall, slender fellow, apparently about 25 years of age. He is deliberate in both speech and action, and plainly engages in his perilous occupation in matter-of-fact fashion, without the remotest suggestion of "nerves." He expressed considerable doubt as to whether the $50,000 prize would ever be paid to anyone for the flight across the continent, as the terms of the contract, he says, now make it impossible to comply with the restrictions. Despite this fact, he says, he will continue the attempt to reach the Pacific coast by biplane.

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

Aviator Fowler, East Bound, to Make New Start From Los Angeles.

San Francisco, Oct. 4.—It was announced here today that Aviator Robert G. Fowler, who abandoned an attempt to fly over the Sierras in his proposed trans-continental flight, will make another start, this time from Los Angeles. Fowler is expected to start from the southern city Oct. 10, if he can get his biplane there by that time.

ATTACK AFFIDAVITS IN FAIRGROUND LIQUOR CASE

Attorneys for Men Charged in Blind Tiger Cases Declare Prosecutor Had No Authority to Administer Oath.

An attack was made in the circuit court today on the sufficiency of the affidavits under which the bar at the Driving park was raided during the fair last month through the medium of a motion to dismiss the proceedings and to quash the search warrant served by the sheriff.

Arguments were begun during the forenoon and resumed this afternoon before Judge O'Rourke, who was compelled to interrupt the hearing to take up some other matters set for trial.

The line of attack is on the ground that the action is a civil one and that Prosecutor Albert E. Thomas had no right under the statutes to administer the oath to Christian S. Ridenour, who name is signed to the affidavit on which Judge O'Rourke issued the warrant.

A Statute is Cited.

To sustain this contention Attorneys Leonard, Rose & Zollars and Harper & Eggner, who represent Oliver Steward, Daniel Clements, William Hunsche, Charles Plante, William C. Malone, Frank McClure, Peter Shoemaker, George Eppert and Herbert S. Black, cited a statute which prescribes that affidavits which characterize the cases should be administered by a justice of the peace, judge of the circuit court or the judge of some other court.

It was argued that failing to comply with this statute the state has no case in court as the affidavit, which is the foundation of the action, is invalid and that the cases should be dismissed, the search warrant quashed and the goods seized be returned by the sheriff to the owners and the parties compensated.

In the first place an affidavit must be made to support the search warrant, the sheriff must serve the warrant and if he finds liquors they must be confiscated and he must then file affidavits charging the parties concerned with what is commonly known as conducting a blind tiger.

This he, and Attorney T. E. Ellison, who is engaged by the temperance forces to conduct their side of the case, contend makes the action criminal and not civil.

GARDENERS WIN THE SUIT TO REDUCE STALL RENTALS

Must Carry Off Refuse from Stands but Get a Very Substantial Reduction for Doing It.

Market gardeners won a decisive victory in the suit filed by Michael Sheridan and a number of others to secure a reduction of stall rentals in the city market and to obtain longer hours for selling, as the price of stalls was cut from $25 a year to $12, and the daily rentals for places not taken by the year was reduced from 25 cents a day to seventeen.

Judge Edward O'Rourke, who has had the matter under advisement for several days, handed down a lengthy opinion today in which he makes the changes noted and extends the hour for closing from 11 o'clock to 1 in the afternoon. He cut out a great many of the items charged by the city for maintenance and fixes them as follows: Market master, $500; street cleaning, $350; police, $142; city sealer, $100; sanitary officers, $142; clerk safety board, $50; brooms, $10; contingencies, $100, making a total of $1,490. In addition he says that at the rate of 10 cents a day the stands not under the covered market will bring in a rental of $688.70, making total receipts of $2,032.70, which he thinks is sufficient to maintain the market. He cut out interest on the money, insurance and a number of other items.

The only additional burden placed on the farmers and gardeners is that they shall gather up and carry away after each market day the refuse from their stalls.

Text of the Ruling.

The full text of the opinion follows: The building of a market house by a city, and its maintenance should be, primarily, for the benefit of the people of the city. The people of the city need the produce of the farms and gardens, and the aim of the city government should be to afford every convenience to those who have such produce for sale that they may be encouraged to bring their goods to the market, so that the people of the city may be able to buy of the market folk at a fair and reasonable price. The aim should not be to raise revenue. Under the ordinance in question there has been collected each year over $3,300.00.

The people of this city have caused to be erected a market house, a great need, and are asked to pay for it, and their desire is to obtain what the farmers and gardeners have to sell, as cheaply as possible. The aim of the city government should be to afford them the means of gratifying their desire.

The price for tables or stalls for the convenience of the farmers and gardeners to sell the things they bring to market from their farms and gardens should be very moderate. And the charges for supervising and regulating the market in an orderly manner should not be such as to be a burden on the market folk.

It is necessary that the farmers and gardeners should have a reasonable time within which to dispose of their goods. It should be borne in mind that the people who go to market to buy do not go to market very early. The time fixed by Section 2 of the ordinance of the common council for closing the market at 11 o'clock a. m. on each market day is not reasonable; the time should be extended to 1 p. m. on each market day.

I think it would be economical and just that the market-folks should gather up the refuse of their produce and take it away as the ordinance provides, and that the city should sweep and clean up the market place and street as has been done heretofore by the city. No charge should be made by the city against the market-folks for lighting the market-house, for water, for insurance, repair of building, for flushing sewers, nor for lamp renewals. The charges made should be only to meet the necessary expense for the proper regulation and conducting of the market, such as the salary of the marketmaster, cleaning the market place and street made necessary by the conducting of the market; pay for a police officer while attending the market; pay for the services of the sealer of weights and measures; pay for the sanitary officer, and a certain sum for the services of the clerk of the board of public safety; a small sum for brooms and utensils necessary in the cleaning of the market place.

I have to meet contingencies, allowed six hundred dollars for the marketmaster; for cleaning the market place and street, three hundred and fifty-five dollars, being about five dollars a day for market days; seventy-one days each year; for police officer while on duty attending the market on market days one hundred and forty-two dollars; for the sealer of weights and measures, one hundred dollars; for the sanitary officer, one hundred and forty-two dollars; for the clerk of the board of safety, fifty dollars, and for the purchase of brooms and utensils, ten dollars. In addition I allow one hundred dollars for contingencies, making a total of fourteen hundred and ninety-nine dollars.

I fix as a proper charge for a year, for the stalls under cover, on market days, $12; there being 112 stalls, at the rate fixed, amounts to $1,344. And in case any of the stalls in the market house should not be taken, then a charge of seventeen cents would be a reasonable charge for each time any market-folk occupies such stall for the sale of his produce.

As to the other places where produce is sold, and not under cover, ten cents for each day such places are assigned to those wishing to sell goods at the market.

There are of such places, west of the city hall, 23.

There are 40 on Barr street between Berry street and Main street.

There are 10 on Berry street east of Barr street.

There are 24 on Barr street north of Main street, making a total of 97. At the rate fixed per day, for 71 days the sum of $68.70 may be realized, which, added to the sum that may be realized from the renting of the stalls in the market house, of $1,344.00, makes a total of $2,032.70.

Therefore, Section 25 of the ordinance that makes it the duty of the market master to collect twenty-five cents from the market-folks for a stand not under cover is declared to be invalid. Section 33 of the ordinance that fixes the rental for stands in the market house at $25.00 per year is declared invalid.

The market-folks that have stalls in the market house for their produce have an interest in the market house taken; otherwise it might appear that a sufficient amount would not be realized from the rates fixed to meet the legitimate charges I have named for carrying on the market.

Right now is soft hat time. We have the new styles.

SCHOOL BOY PICKS UP CHARGED WIRE

Kenneth Williams Receives 2,300 Volts of Electricity.

LAD WILL RECOVER

A live wire charged with 2,300 volts of electricity came very near ending the life of Kenneth Williams, the ten-year-old son of Dr. J. W. Williams, of 1215 Columbia avenue, shortly after 1 o'clock today.

Young Williams and Calvin Burket, son of Dr. E. R. Burket, of 337 Crescent avenue, were on their way to the Lakeside school. At the corner of Lake avenue and Tecumseh street the boys noticed a wire on the ground. Without stopping to consider what the wire might be the Williams boy picked it up, and in a moment was writhing in agony on the ground. The wire happened to be a Commercial feed wire running into the city and it was charged with 2,300 volts of electricity. C. V. Enninger, of 1203 Lake avenue, saw the terrible predicament of the young lad and rushing to the spot of the accident he knocked the wire from the boy's grasp with a piece of wood.

At first it seemed as though young Williams could not survive the terrible shock. His little finger and the third finger of his right hand were frightfully burned and he was rendered unconscious by the heavy charge. The police patrol was summoned, and Chief Abbott, who was at one time a lineman, went to the scene of the accident and rendered first aid to the suffering youth. The little fellow was taken to the station where physicians announced that he would undoubtedly recover.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon a loose telephone wire laid across the Chicago trolley wires on Calhoun street between Washington and Jefferson. No accidents have been reported as due to it.

GOVERNOR TENER IS INVESTIGATING

Pennsylvania Executive is Looking Over Ground at Austin.

TRY TO FIX BLAME

Austin, Pa., Oct. 4.—In a drizzling rain Gov. John K. Tener, who arrived here last night from Harrisburg, started today on his tour of inspection of the destroyed district, including the dam of the Bayless Pulp and Paper company, the going out of which resulted in the death, distress and privation which has overspread this village.

Stronger than ever this morning was the general opinion that the governor's visit indicated that the state officials are looking over the situation with a view of ascertaining their authority in conducting an investigation as to the liability and responsibility for the condition of the dam.

State Did Not Know of Danger.

It is positively asserted by General Fred W. Feltz, vice president of the state water supply commission, that at no time was the state made cognizant of the construction, repair or condition of the dam. It had been said that at the time the dam was repaired a year or more ago a state engineer had inspected it at the request of the company and his report was that it was unsafe. This report, Gen. Feltz says, is untrue; "the state has never been consulted in this connection."

State Senator F. E. Baldwin, of counsel for the Bayless Pulp and Paper company, was among those in close touch with Governor Tener during his visit here.

Clearing Away the Wreckage.

Aside from the governor's sojourn, the situation early today assumed the routine of clearing away wreck age, the search for more bodies and renewed efforts to get men, not only as laborers, but as cooks, whose services are sorely needed. The replenishing of food supplies, too, is taxing the energies of the commissary, as well as the railroads. The seventeen nurses from the state dispensary have been working almost to the limit of their strength, having been forced to do duty at the morgue as well as working as cooks and serving meals at the commissary, because the necessary help has been unobtainable. There has been a remarkable absence of ceremony in the burial of the dead.

Primitive Equipment.

There are no carriages or vehicles beyond one rough undertaker's wagon. In most instances when a body is turned over to relatives, a simple service is read and the casket is borne to one of the two little cemeteries here by a half dozen friends. Several of the bodies have been shipped away to other towns or cities to be buried by relatives.

A strict guard is still kept on the incoming trains and none is allowed to pass without authority. Incoming trains carry only necessary baggage or freight and passenger coaches are locked at Keating Summit to keep the late comers from crowding aboard and coming on to Austin.

Then followed the encounter that ended in the justice throwing the intruder down stairs. He ran after him but the man, with no fight left in him, jumping through a window and escaped.

STRIKE BREAKERS APEAL TO BE TAKEN FROM M'COMB

Haley, the aged striker, who was shot down early this morning near the railroad shops was a victim of armed pickets placed there by the strikers. A young woman who says she witnessed the killing stated that Haley refused to halt when commanded, that shots followed and she saw him fall. She said Haley shouted his name as he fell and his assailant replied: "Why in ——— didn't you tell us Lem?"

His assailants then disappeared in the darkness, she said.

Haley's friends assert railroad guards killed him, but Sheriff Holmes expressed the belief that Haley was shot by his friends.

Rowdism of Non-Union Men.

Here the entire blame for yesterday's disturbance which led to the battle between strikers and strike-breakers near the railroad shops is charged to alleged rowdism of strike-breakers aboard the special train. E. M. Montgomery and Edward Harnes, strikers, were hurt in the encounter.

"I was standing near the train of strike-breakers when it pulled in," said Deputy Marshal L. M. Jones today, and saw fully a cask of stones and bricks piled on the floor of the baggage car. Before the train came to a stop a shower of rocks poured from the coaches and immediately there was a return volley of rocks from the crowd outside.

A man in one of the coaches then shoved a revolver through a window and leveled at me. I drew my revolver and taking quick aim shouted to him to get back. As the train started, just then a bullet from his revolver whizzed within about two feet of my head and struck an automobile occupied by two young men across the roadway. I was struck in the side by a stone thrown from the train.

Numerous arrests of strikers and sympathizers for alleged violation of the federal injunctions are expected during the day. Already thirty warrants are said to have been prepared. The authorities are today investigating a dynamite explosion which blew a large hole in the ground several hundred feet from the railroad property early today. Strikers assert that the killing of Haley and the wounding of Canton and Curtis is directly traceable to special officers employed by the railroad company. They assert the three strikers were together, going to their homes, between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, when they were felled by bullets which came from the direction of the Illinois Central yards.

DOZEN RETURN TO WORK.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Twelve car men who left the Illinois Central shops at Burnside last Saturday when the general strike of shopmen began, returned to their work today. Railroad officials declare that dozens of men will return from now on as many of the strikers have applied for their old places and will be taken back.

Representatives of the labor unions deny these statements and declare that the road is unable to move more than half of its freight business because of impaired service due to the strike.

Despite the denials of the strikers there are about 800 men now at work in the Burnside shops.

The men were not molested when they passed through the big gates leading to the shops this morning although there were small groups of strikers scattered about the outside of the grounds. The strikers apparently have abandoned picketing. Five hundred policemen are still guarding the railroad's property. A passenger coach on a siding is used as headquarters for the police.

Derbies and soft hats in all the prevailing shapes and colors, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $5.00.

THE STEPHENSON INQUIRY.

That it takes a barrel of extraordinary length and diameter to secure a republican senatorial nomination under the Wisconsin primary laws is the testimony of the “defense” in the inquiry into the election of United States Senator Stephenson. The certified expense account of the senator shows that over $107,000 was spent by him to get his name before the legislature and this is alleged to have been a minor fraction of the money distributed over the state by himself and those interested in his election. A plausible case seems to be made out for him and it does no violence to the sense of proportion to conceive that several hundred thousand dollars might easily be spent in a nominally legitimate way. All the bosses, lieutenants and henchmen would of course need something to perfect local organizations, hire hands, buy banners and transparencies and settle bar bills. But even the $107,000 admittedly spent, conceding that all of it went for proper expense, argues a vicious and demoralized state of politics and discloses the handicap under which a poor man, he be never so able and fit for the high duties of a senatorship, would labor in pursuing an ambition to sit in the senate of the United States. The campaign publicity law will correct this through two of its provisions—the necessity for disclosing what is spent and the prescription of the amount per voter the candidate for either branch of congress may legitimately and lawfully spend without disqualifying himself for a congressional seat. The day when the candidacy of a notorious class of men for the United States senate meant a flood of cash and widespread prosperity around legislative halls of certain states has passed never to return. The Stephenson and Lorimer elections not only marked the passing of that day, but as much as anything contributed to provoke of the remedy for wholesale debauchment of senatorial elections. It may be that Senator Stephenson can prove that he used money for no improper purpose in his election, but he cannot disprove that a campaign expense account such as he had is not a vicious and demoralizing factor in politics. That his state feels it to be so was evidenced in the demand of the Wisconsin legislature for the investigation now under way.

JUSTICE TO SCHLEY.

So far as it may be able to do so congress should amend the record respecting the late Admiral Schley's conduct and performances in the naval battle of Santiago. A resolution to erect to his memory at public expense a suitable monument and reciting the truth of history respecting his victory over Cervera would go far to erase from the record the wanton wrong with which vindictiveness blotted his fame. The people of the country would approve with great heartiness such a measure of justice to a true gentleman and knightly warrior who bore himself with splendid valor in battle against his country's enemies and with fine chivalry toward his own more implacable and vindictive foes at home. The Sampson-Schley controversy prevented just recognition of his merits and reward of his desert at the hands of a congress that was perhaps under some not highly moral obligations to save the administration that conducted the war and disposed of its corollary events; but there is now no such duty of politics to be considered. Justice to the memory of Admiral Schley should not be tardy. It is the least the nation can do for the behoof of its own honor to clear the name of this officer and gentleman from the attainture with which malice has befouled it in the record, as the people of the country in their hearts long since cleared him. It never is costly to be just, and justice still is the unrequited due of Admiral Winfield Scott Schley at the hands of the government that for a half century he valorously served.

The more or less unspeakable Turk continues to expostulate to the European powers who keep the concert in tune that he is not to blame, that he didn't begin it, that he was struck when he wasn't looking, that there is nothing fair about it and that if somebody doesn't soon rope his adversary he is going to get badly hurt besides losing something. All of which and a good deal more probably will have little effect, until all international conventions and usages are fulfilled by Italy taking what she wants and dribbling the Turk a time or two to prove that her cause is just and her position forced.

It is said and it probably is true that Turkey expects to yield to all of Italy's demands, but is obliged for home consumption to make a show of resistance. So there will be some battling, some bloodshed and some expense; some haggling, some negotiating and some peace. Nor is Turkey the inventor of this style of taking a thrashing. It is thought with some reason that Spain was willing at Santiago to give up after a bit of planned stubbornness, but went farther than was intended because her rank and file were splendid fighters. It is not a new suggestion that Cervera devoted his warships to destruction in a hopeless engagement because he feared to surrender them without a fight, though humanity dictated that he do so. And it is well established that the land battle of Manila was a frame-up insisted on by the Spanish commander under instructions from home. Useless blood was spilled there in considerable bulk, too. Turkey will insist on at least being kicked if not licked.

Transportation of United States mail across the continent by aerial route has been sanctioned by the postmaster general. If the carriers don't burn up the sky roads any faster than the fellows now awing across the continent it is only fair to hope none of the mail so to be carried will be marked “rush.”

The disaster at Austin does not turn out to be so bad as first reports made it, but still bad enough to make it worth while to find out who is to blame for maintaining a crumbling dam with a mighty sea of water pent up behind it.

Of course there are the carping and the captious who will insist that was what Madero was after when he began it and all the time.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH.

(Technical World Magazine.)

It was something like three years ago that an ambitious bookkeeper complained to the writer of his inability to keep his eyes open the moment he applied them to books of an evening after work. Since boyhood he had contributed to the support of a family of seven, and now at the age of twenty-four he desired to take up shorthand and to carry a correspondence course or two. If by hook or by crook he did manage to work until 11 or 12 o'clock his mind would be dull and heavy next day. At one time he was so ill advised as to try drinking strong tea for supper. Tea kept his eyes open all right, but headaches began to manifest themselves, and sleeplessness and other symptoms of nervousness put in appearance. The young man dropped the tea, and the headaches and nervousness disappeared almost immediately, but evening work was still impossible. The writer suggested to him that he discontinue his suppers, eating at most an apple or other fresh fruit, or perhaps a small bowl of cereal flakes with the juice of a stewed fruit. He adopted the suggestion, adding to it one of his own devising—that he be careful at all meals to choose only the digestible foods—and before a year had elapsed his knowledge of shorthand had gained him a private secretaryship to the president of his concern, and he is now a small stockholder. He had capitalized his time.

An eminent political economist recently ventured the assertion that not more than one person in ten is healthy—meaning by “healthy” not “just so so,” but positively, vitally, actively, radiantly so. The other nine sort of worry along, some in positive ill health, the others neither sick nor well, both classes a burden to themselves and to those who are obliged to live and work with them. And inasmuch as these persons are so preponderantly in the majority it is pertinent to ask, “Can health come back?”

The answer is most emphatically, it can if you are willing to deny yourself accustomed luxuries. Self-denial—that is the price of getting well. It sounds a good deal easier than parting with good gold, but most people prefer contributing to the support of a physician to giving up one of their three or four daily meals, or a cup of tea. A drug trade journal recently decanted upon what it was pleased to call “the ivory-headed public.” The burden of the editor's satire was this: “In their ability to resist the letting in of information concerning matters of health, the heads of a remarkably large portion of the general public seem to be made of solid ivory, bone or wood.” Patronize the restaurants and hotel dining rooms and note how many stuff their stomachs full of unmanicured food, making it go down with ice water, coffee, beer or wine, instead of the natural digestive fluids of the mouth.”

CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPONS.

(Chicago Tribune.)

Last week a New York judge sentenced a man to serve a year in the penitentiary for carrying a pistol without a permit. This was the first conviction under the new law, which makes the mere possession of a pistol without a license a misdemeanor and carrying it concealed on the person a felony.

The law has some rigid provisions governing the sale of firearms which could profitably be copied here. The seller, whether retail dealer, pawnbroker or otherwise, has to keep a register in which are entered the date of sale, the name, age, occupation and residence of the purchaser, together with the caliber, make and manufacturer's number, or other marks of identification of the weapon. The seller must require the purchaser to produce his permit for possessing or carrying a pistol and must enter in his register its number and the name of the magistrate or officer by whom granted. A failure to comply with these requirements is a misdemeanor. So is it to sell to any person under 18 years of age.

It may be said that even if these provisions be well enforced criminal characters who are determined to arm themselves will manage somehow to get them. That is true enough, but even in the case of criminals the possibility of a penitentiary sentence may make them more careful about carrying deadly weapons. It should deter those who do not belong to the criminal classes, but who have contracted the dangerous revolver habit.

The man whose case was mentioned above—he is an Italian—said that he had carried a revolver for two years and that all his friends did. That it was “usual” to carry pistols. It is most desirable to put to stop to a custom which in the event of an angry dispute might result in a murder.

The Chicago police authorities should watch the workings of the New York law. If it shall prove a success the legislature should be asked to make it a part of the Illinois criminal code.

MAKING FRIENDS FOR GOOD ROADS.

(Indianapolis Star.)

It is an encouraging sign that the good roads movement in Indiana, under the energetic leadership of Mr. Kenyon, recognizes at last one of the most flagrant evils of our highway system—the disgraceful gap of impassable going between well-paved city streets and the hard country turnpikes. It is in this twilight zone that our roads are weakest.

Another gratifying omen of wise activity is the anticipatory move toward securing for Indiana soil such east and west trunk roads as the national government shall undertake. Still another is the concentration of effort on a highway commission and levy of an automobile tax for the construction of model highways across the state, connecting with important cities on the borders, like Chicago and Louisville.

In the old days of foreign missionary effort the aim was to destroy the heathen's faith in his own religion and then rear the Christian superstructure on those ruins.

The result was often disastrous. A better and more modern way is to recognize the good in native religions and build upon that the Christian faith and practice. Doubtless the good roads movement may find in this example an advantageous suggestion along the line of least resistance.

A splendid way not to get ahead, perhaps, is to enlist at the outset the antipathy of all who have built good roads before—the farmer who has a small interest in automobile truck lines and the railroads whose chief concern is not the pike at all, but the country highways by which the farmer may get his crops at least ways by which the nearest station. Approached in the proper way, neither of these elements can object to a highway commission, an automobile tax or state aid.

DEATH RATE LOW.

September Was Healthy Month—Doctor Stork Does Good Work.

According to city health department reports there were nearly twice the number of births in Fort Wayne as there were deaths during the month of September. The death rate was unusually low last month. As a rule the rate for one month in this city averages between 75 and 100, but last month there were only 54 deaths within the city limits. Up to the present time 95 births have been reported for the month of September.

Of the 54 deaths pneumonia is credited with being the cause of 5; tuberculosis, 4; cancer, 5; apoplexy, 4; accidents, 4; cholera infantum, 2; paralysis, 2; and scarlet fever, 1. Complications of various diseases caused the majority of the deaths during the last month.

Contagious diseases of the serious nature were very rare during September. The reports state that there were only 5 cases of typhoid, 3 cases of scarlet fever and 14 cases of diphtheria.

Martinsville has been chosen as the next place of meeting.

URGES PERSONAL INTEREST IN GIRLS' WELFARE

stockings stylish," Mrs. Guldin declared.

She asked her hearers to take a more personal interest in working women, and particularly in the maids employed in their own homes. "Treat them with justice," she said. She advocated allowing the maid the occasional use of the parlor. "Girls who come to the city to work have only their small rooms. They can not stay there evenings, so go to the moving picture shows and the dance halls. Why don't you women provide places for them?" she asked. "You can not leave everything to the police."

"For the first time women are called upon to prove that they are the great moral force of the nation. Now that they are in competition with the men, it will be learned if they are of the moral fiber to resist all temptation. And it is the duty of the Y. W. C. A. to so teach them that they will stand strong in morals. You must make their religion so practical that it can be put on as a garment for everyday use. We, who are in sheltered homes, know little of the working girl's problems. She lives them. We women, who are the social engineers, should stand shoulder to shoulder with them. We talk, but they live conditions. Men do not appreciate woman's divine right of purity, and we must stand behind these girls, we women who have always been sheltered. I want to see who will be the stenographer twenty-five years from now. Men are secretly in their first long trousers before they assume habits that undermine their strength and make them victims of disease. The women, temperate and industrious, will be a force to be reckoned with."

POSTAL SAVINGS SUPPLIES HERE

Ready for Opening of the Postal Savings Bank on Saturday.

PIATT MAY START IT

Additional supplies for the postal savings bank reached the city today and practically all the equipment is now here in readiness for the opening of the bank in connection with the money order department of the Fort Wayne postoffice next Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

While no definite information has been received, it is presumed here that the starting of the bank will be supervised by Postoffice Inspector W. L. Piatt, of this district. Mr. Piatt has already installed a number of the postal savings banks in his territory, though it is possible another man may be sent from Washington for the Fort Wayne opening.

The postal savings business will be transacted through one of the windows in the money order division. Inquiries regarding it have not been especially numerous, and postal attaches are not expecting any considerable rush when the bank is opened. The certificates of deposit received today are in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $50 and $100.

RECIPES

Buttermilk Bread—Use buttermilk

which is not too sour. Heat a quart of it to the boiling point, stirring frequently to prevent curdling. Add one tablespoonful of sugar, set aside for five minutes and mix gradually with one quart of sifted flour, beating and stirring until a smooth batter is made. Cover closely and let stand over night. Then add to the batter one teaspoonful of baking soda, dissolved in one quarter of a cupful of hot water, one scant tablespoonful of salt and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter or shortening. Beat well, then gradually sift and mix in sufficient flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on a well floured board and knead until very soft and velvety to the touch. Divide into thirds, mold into loaves, place in greased pans and bake at once in a moderate oven.

Braised Beef—When selecting beef for braising, choose a thick, square piece from some of the cheaper cuts, such as the shoulder or cross rib. It should be first browned quickly in a little suet melted in a pan, laid on a bed of sliced vegetables—preferably onions and carrots—such seasoning added as is desired and about a pint of either boiling stock, water, stewed tomato or brown gravy poured round. It is then closely covered and cooked in a moderate oven, allowing forty minutes to the pound.

WORKERS AND DELEGATES TO THE GREAT MISSIONARY CONFERENCE OF METHODISTS AT NEW HAVEN.

WIN THE WORLD FOR OUR CHRIST

Missions, Home and Abroad, Theme at New Haven Convention.

REV. CECIL'S ADDRESS

New Haven, Ind., Oct. 4.—Evangelization, how to win the world for Christ, was the central thought of all the addresses made today at the missionary-evangelical convention of the Fort Wayne district of the Methodist Episcopal church, which closed its three days' session here this evening.

It was devoted to the forenoon prayer and devotion and the songs that opened the day's meetings and closed the day's sessions.

In the first address made by Rev. J. K. Cecil, the pastor of the First M. E. church at Fort Wayne, whose theme was "The Church and the Rising Generation," and the second subject by Rev. M. F. Straight, F. V. Westhaver, E. Dickson, A. R. Gilliam, C. M. Lantis and J. C. Valentine. The same thought, but along different lines, was forcibly and interestingly enunciated in the address on "The Church and Social Problems" by the Rev. C. Claud Travis, of Fort Wayne, and others.

The need of personal work and its effectiveness was discussed in addresses by Revs. J. D. Rehl, W. A. Griest, R. A. Morrison and T. M. Hill. In fact, evangelization characterized the entire day's program.

Rev. Cecil's Address.

The address of the Rev. Mr. Cecil was a plea for continued and increased religious work among the young by influencing and keeping them under church influences.

"The purpose of this convention," he said in his introductory, "has been missionary and evangelistic in its scope. The whole world has been brought before us in its needs as well as its opportunities. There is an increased interest on the part of the church in every step that enlarges its opportunities and makes its work more certain success. The responsibility which rests on the church at the hands of the world is often the outgrowth of ignorance."

"No one here will concede that the gospel is a failure. It has brought hope to men who cry aloud, 'Oh, wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me from this dead body?' It has brought enlarged grace to many heart-broken men and women. It has succeeded in revealing to a lost world the great light. It has brought peace and happiness and salvation from sin."

Where Neglect Exists.

And then after speaking of what the gospel had done for the world and repeating the fact that it had not been a failure, he spoke of some of the failures for which the church, in its corporate organization, and as individuals, is to be blamed, principal among which is its religious duty to the young.

"The church," he said, "looking to far-away fields," has been "there is a great field at home. What is the attitude of the church toward the rising generation? Theoretically, it takes the child and baptizes it, catechizes it and receives it into the church. Then the child is turned over to the church. The fathers and mothers neglect the responsibility in its training and watchfulness over their children which should be theirs."

And one of these failures on the part of the parents that he pointed out, forcibly was the neglect to keep the children under religious influences, in the church and in the Sunday school by allowing them to drift at their will. They and the church are to blame for this neglect. The child should be kept in the Sunday school and the church, required to be in attendance on their services, surrounded by proper influences and made to recognize the fact that safety and success in this world, as well as their eternal welfare, is best guaranteed by remaining true to the church and leading a Christian life.

Foreign Missions.

The entire afternoon of Tuesday and evening sessions was given over to foreign missions. The convention was fortunate in securing as speakers some of the most distinguished missionaries in the foreign fields, Rev. W. L. King, of India; Dr. H. L. Canright, of China; and Dr. E. H. Richards, of Africa, men who for years have been at work in those countries as leaders of the missionary work abroad.

Their stories were told during the afternoon and were intensely interesting. They are at present in America on furloughs and giving much of their time to discussions at church conventions and in other meetings to a presentation of the work and needs of missions in their respective countries. Their addresses are of a most practical character, interwoven with their own experiences, and give a world of information on the progress of evangelization in the fields that Christianity is seeking so ardently to win for Christ.

Dr. Richards has been in Africa for thirty years. He is one of the oldest and most prominent of the missionaries in that country. He has translated the Bible into different languages and is doing a wonderful work for the conversion of the heathen abroad. His home in this country is at Oberlin, O., but for thirty years with his family he has resided in Africa. Dr. Canright is medical missionary in China and in charge of a hospital in one of the large cities there, giving his time not alone to curing the body but also in teaching the people of his wide-extended field the truths and the need of the gospel of Christ. He has been in the foreign fields many years, as has also Rev. King. The latter has been working in India for twenty-three years.

Dr. W. M. Puffer, of Kalamazoo, Mich., who is also a representative of the missionary cause, was one of the speakers Tuesday afternoon and in the evening. His address was on the theme, "Adequate Methods of Missionary Finance," and was followed by a general discussion on the best plans for work to be pursued in this district. A systematic giving to missions was the policy generally favored by the pastors. Dr. Puffer was one of the speakers on the evening program. The closing message of the Tuesday evening meeting was from Dr. J. A. Beatty, the district superintendent, who has been presiding at the convention.

Handsome Entertainment.

All the pastors in attendance at the convention, and they included almost the entire ministry of the Fort Wayne M. E. district, as well as the other guests present, speak in the highest terms of praise of the way in which they have been entertained.

It was on the Harvard plan. The guests were given free lodging and breakfast at the homes of the New Haven people. Their dinners and suppers were served at the improvised dining-rooms in one of the large vacant business rooms of the Odd Fellows building by the two societies of the church—the Ladies' Aid and the Buys Bees—for the ladies and the Buys Bees. The president of the Ladies' Aid is Mrs. Josie Butler and the secretary Mrs. Frank Bolyard. The Buys Bees is officered by Miss Mary Bryant as president and Mrs. Mabel Todd as secretary.

Long tables were spread on each side of the big room, and, as one of the visiting pastors said, "we had charming waiters and meals that would rival the best hotel in America. There was plenty to eat and it was the best. Why, what do you think? We had chicken every meal. They knew we were preachers."

Here is the menu for the dinners served: Chicken, fried or stewed; meat loaf; cold beef; mashed potatoes and gravy; corn; tomatoes; salads; coffee; bread and butter; and pie, any kind one wished to order. With the exception of pie, the bill of fare for the suppers was the same. Eggs were also served for supper. In place of pie the ladies served their guests with fruit and cake.

The New Haven Pastor.

Rev. M. M. Thornburg, the pastor of the convention church, also comes in for a big share of praise from the guests for the arrangements made for the convention and the entertainment. He was active in looking after their every want.

Rev. Mr. Thornburg has been the pastor of the church since last June. He is a Fort Wayne young man, having formerly been in charge of the general offices at the Electric works. In his four months' pastorate at New Haven, and it is his first charge since being admitted to the ministry, he has been remarkably successful and is highly regarded by the members of his congregation and the people of New Haven.

When he came here there was a debt of $500 on the church. This he has liquidated. The enrollment of the Sunday school has been doubled and the regular attendance at the Sunday services in the church largely increased.

The church is a brick edifice, modern in its details, and handsome, the auditorium seating 500. The parsonage adjoins it. The congregation is prosperous and spiritually wide-awake, which is also the case with the other churches here.

HUNTINGTON TO HONOR W. P. HART

Highest State Official of Knights of Pythias Lodge to Be Remembered by Townsmen.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 4.—In honor of William P. Hart, who was yesterday elevated to the highest position in the K. of P. lodge in the state, residents of Huntington will join with members of the local lodge in a reception to be given Friday evening at the K. of P. home on West Market street. An invitation has been extended by the committee in charge to everyone and Mr. Hart's welcome will be a pleasant one.

Tuesday afternoon at Indianapolis where the state meeting is now being held the election of officers for the ensuing term was held and in the regular order of advancement the Huntington men were placed in the highest office in the state, that of grand chancellor. About five years ago he won the place as grand outer guard over a number of prominent men in the state and since that time has passed to a higher chair each year. For the next term he will be at the head of the state division of the lodge and the honor is one which is not only shared by the Knights of Pythias of Huntington but the city as well.

As a demonstration of the place held by Mr. Hart in the opinion of fellow lodgemen and all residents of the city, the reception has been planned for Friday evening. Today he was installed in his new place and will probably be detained at Indianapolis until Friday by lodge affairs. That evening the affair in his honor will cause the K. of P. home to be crowded.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Benjamin Oliver yesterday attained her ninety-fourth birthday anniversary, but lived only a few hours of the day for at 7 o'clock she yielded to the suffering following an accident and passed away at her home in Lauro.

Mrs. Oliver would possibly have lived to round her century of life but for an accident which resulted in a broken hip about one week ago.

She could not recuperate from this injury and as a result passed away. What would have been a day for rejoicing was therefore turned into a day of mourning.

This will enable him to reach Chicago Wednesday, and the remains will be accompanied from there to this place by Charles Adams, reaching here probably at 7:21 this evening.

WOMAN PARSON GIVES DIVORCE LECTURES

THE REV. MARIE F. DAVIES.

"Now a word about divorce." These words startle the bride and bridegroom who have just sealed the marriage vows with a kiss when the Rev. Marie F. Davies officiates. Miss Davies, who is a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel, officiating in small parlors in the vicinity of Des Moines, Ia., has become popular as a marrying parson.

Her observation of the lack of seriousness often manifested by brides and bridegrooms has led her to the conclusion that they should be impressed firmly with the responsibilities of domesticity. She accordingly points out the rapid increase of divorce and warns the newly married couple against letting those causes creep into the home.

SOUTH BEND HAS HAD ONE LESSON
LYCEUM CLUB IS READY TO START

Players Sold for Nearly as Much as Franchise Was Offered For.

CITY MAY GET IN YET
AND FOOT BALL TOO

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 4.—Although Dr. F. R. Carson did all in his power to keep the Lyceum club from being sold, the fact remains that the franchise was sold to the Evansville franchise for $15,000, at which price the Evansville franchise was sold to the Lyceum club. Carson did not see it and turned it down.

That the members of the Lyceum club did not know what they were about when they sold the franchise to the Evansville franchise is a fact that is being proved by the fact that the Evansville franchise was sold to the Lyceum club for $15,000, at which price the Evansville franchise was sold to the Lyceum club. Carson did not see it and turned it down.

It is understood that this has since been sold to W. H. Watkins for $2,000 and that as soon as the deal is ratified by the national association the transfer will be made and Springfield will be in the Central league.

It has been proven that baseball men regard holdings in the Central league valuable. South Bend business men in common with the baseball public comprised in the league club were a unit in saying they would not give ten cents for the franchise stripped of its players and uniforms, but W. H. Watkins, a man of wide experience in the national game, thinks that he is making a pretty good investment when he pays $2,000 for one, and he indicates that the public does not know much about such things.

This leaves one more chance for this city to obtain a berth in the Central league, as the Evansville franchise is to be retained by the present owners or sold. The Evansville franchise is on the block and if the fans of South Bend fail to get it, well good-bye Central league baseball for 1912.

A casual retrospection will bring to light and emphasize the fact that the Evansville franchise was sold to the Lyceum club for $15,000, at which price the Evansville franchise was sold to the Lyceum club. Carson did not see it and turned it down.

Each participant and most of the spectators will be carefully searched and relieved of firearms, decayed vegetables and surplus truck that is in the least objectionable. There has been a sale of tickets for the event and most of the purchasers believe it will be worth two bits to see the departments engaged in battle.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock and if it is not finished by dark it will be called anyhow. The players are under contract to play a Sunday school picnic. The proceeds will be split up between three hospitals and every quarter invested in the enterprise will go toward the aid of a good cause.

M'INNIS THE MARVEL OF BIG SERIES

To have played nearly 200 games of major league baseball and to have become a regular on a world's championship club before he had attained the voting age of 21 years is the exceptional record of Jack "Stuffy" McInnis, of the Philadelphia Athletics.

McInnis attained his majority September 19 last, and if his injured wrist gets well will go into the world's series against the New York Giants as one of the youthful phenomena of baseball.

And this young man who has displaced Captain Harry Davis at the initial sack by his skill and hitting ability is playing his third season with the Athletics, although not until this year has he been able to gain a regular place on the club which combines young blood and experience with that maturity and balance which results in baseball greatness.

McInnis as a baseball player, is a development of "Connie" Mack, who took the player when he was only 15 years old, gave him a little more work each year, and realized that natural

COBB SAYS BASE RUNNING WON'T COUNT

"Base running will not be the important factor in the world's series that many of those who hope the Giants to win games on speed seem to think. In fact, it will not surprise me if the base stealing ability of McGraw's team proves no material element in the winning or losing of the contest, and is at no time notably in evidence."

This is a statement made by Ty Cobb, of the Detroit team, a man who should be qualified to view as an expert any question involving base running and its value. Cobb is a close student of the game, watched the Athletics and Cubs carefully last fall, and himself has seen three series from the inside. In addition, of course, he has been a leading base runner ever since he came into professional ball, and this year has set a new base stealing record for the American league.

This is why I say that the record of thefts that the Giants have piled up should not be considered too greatly in figuring the chances of the two teams. Cobb says, "Base running does not count in a short series. It never has, and never can. Each single game is a matter of outwitting the pitcher and of a thrower to steal a base you give the opposing team a chance to put you out. Those chances, unless your team is in front and

INTERESTING BITS OF SPORT CHATTER

Curry and Coombs are both in the American league at present. Bring on your rules! Come to think of it, Groom is in the same circuit.

The fact that injuries have deprived Jennings of some of his best players and that others of his old combination have been going bad has not occurred to his enemies.

John McGraw believes that Merkle is one of the best first basemen in the game at present. The game the youngster has been playing in the last six weeks is remarkable.

Although no less person than The Batter himself announced that he had come back, Young Saylor made a chopping block of the veteran at Boston last night and won over Nelson in a dozen rounds.

Leon Ketchel, brother of the late Stanley Ketchel, is the latest aspirant for honors in the boxing world. He weighs 134 pounds and is said to have an excellent chance in the lightweight division.

Fred Fox, formerly a Wheeling fan, but now living in Carnegie, Pa., was among the first to wager $1,000 on the coming world's series. He picks the Giants.

The Athletic end was taken by a Cincinnati business man.

One of the biggest surprises in the National league averages is the clip at which Dolly Stark, former Vet shortstop, is hitting for Brooklyn. The latest figures show Stark an average of .384. He hit only .220 in the Central league last season.

Old Cy Young, who has worked against the batters of both clubs, picks the Giants to beat the Athletics. He says that the Athletics' catchers will never be able to stop the Giants on the sacks when

CUBS IN SECOND AND CAN'T LOSE

New York Wins and One More Game Will Make Flag Certain.

SOX TO PLAY CUBS

With second place in the National league race made certain by a victory over the Cardinals at St. Louis, Manager Frank L. Chance, of the Cubs, was called to Chicago yesterday to make arrangements for an inter-city series between his club and the White Sox as all hope of a pennant practically departed with the defeat of Philadelphia by the Giants.

If arrangements can be made by which the Cubs can advance their game with the White Sox, the series will open on October 10 and that is the tentative date fixed by the officials of the two clubs, but they are subject to approval by the national commission.

Manager Bresnahan threw nothing in the way of the Cubs to prevent them from winning the game, and the Cubs are expected to win the series, as they have won three of them in the first inning, being finally in a position to win the regular season by a margin of one game.

The festivities will be held before the shades of night made further play impossible. Cole was on the firing line for the Cubs and he was a dozen times Grover Alexander and Otis Grandall started the Decker-Giant conflict at Philadelphia and the latter lasted through the entire series, as he got his bearings after the first inning and held the Doolin tribe unless Alexander was not as lucky, as he blew up badly in the sixth and had to be relieved.

New York is scheduled with Brooklyn today and tomorrow and ought to take the only game necessary to make the pennant an absolute clinch.

KAYLOR GETS A LICENSE.

Gives Occupation as Salesman in Securing the Document.

In the county clerk's office today a marriage license was issued to Thursday, Kaylor, 22 years old, and a salesman, and Helen Kelly, 19. This is our Ted Kaylor, outfielder on the Danville team, and the former baseman of the Danville team, but she has been a resident of Allen county the thirty days required under the statutes.

The ceremony was performed immediately after the license was issued and Justice Henry Grabner officiated at the wedding. On the authority of the attaches at the clerk's office, who witnessed the ceremony the bride is a very attractive young lady.

Kaylor gave out to his friends that he was to be married to a niece of Speaker Joseph Cannon and that the wedding would take place in Danville.

ONCE A VILLAGE BLACKSMITH; NOW A CONGRESSMAN.

Representative Robert E. Lee, democrat, of Pottsville, is a blacksmith, and a good one. When some of his associates doubted it he produced a picture of himself taken at the forge and they were satisfied.

Besides being a blacksmith, Representative Lee has the added distinction of having deserted the printer's trade, at which he worked for three years, to go to the forge. His father died when he was one year old and he was early compelled to earn his own living.

He is also interested in a large grocery business now operated by his brother in Pottsville. He is a bachelor.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION OF FIRE PREVENTION DAY.

To the People of Fort Wayne:

Fire prevention is engaging the intelligent attention of an aroused public. The question has taken root in a soil made fertile by the doctrine, and the enthusiastic preachments and labors of Clifford Pinchot, and the other champions of the conservation of our forests and the rest of our natural resources.

If conservation of our natural resources is wise and necessary, and that conclusion is now an axiom, then why should we not conserve our artificial resources? The wealth of the forests and the ores in the ground are endowed upon man by Divine Providence—it comes without any labor or effort by man. It is natural wealth, and it is wealth that a quickened public conception, in the past few years, has learned the value of nurturing and husbanding as well as protecting.

The wealth so lavishly distributed is entitled to no more protection or attention than our artificial wealth. The wealth, such as the homes and business buildings of our cities, is the result of the toil and the sweat of the brow of man. Its creation draws largely on our natural resources, such as timber, iron and stone. So that the conservation of our artificial wealth is very closely connected with the conservation of our natural resources.

True, we are all converted to the necessity of fire insurance, which only compensates for part, for every fire means an irreparable loss—and not to one individual, but to the public generally. For your premiums help to pay the loss from every fire. The greater the number of fires, the higher rate of insurance you pay. The thing burned / can never again be actually replaced. It is an absolute loss—of wealth. The decrease of wealth means lack of prosperity. It has been advanced that the San Francisco earthquake and the large Baltimore fire, with their great losses and destruction of wealth, contributed largely to our recent money panic. Consequently a movement has been started to prevent and lessen the number of fires. The spending of millions of dollars to extinguish fire is to be accompanied with a general effort to prevent, based on the maxim that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." To further the movement, I do hereby proclaim October 9, 1911, as "Fire Prevention day," in the city of Fort Wayne, and do call upon all citizens on that day to give personal attention to cleaning up their premises from all waste and rubbish; to set heating appliances in a safe and proper condition for winter; to examine and clean chimneys and flues so that breakage and cracks may be properly repaired; to the giving of information as to the need of more carefully using matches and volatile oils, and to the avoiding of carelessness in the burning of rubbish.

I would also suggest on this day that the school authorities, both public and parochial, give instructions to the children in the schools, so they can assist in the general effort to give continued attention to these dangers, so that they will also become fully educated as to the necessity of exercising the care that is being urged. In this way it is hoped that the number of fires will be lessened and our wealth, both artificial and natural, be thus conserved and the prosperity of the people generally promoted.

(Signed) JESSE GRICE,
Mayor of Fort Wayne.

A Silken Lustre
To the Dullest Hair

(Fashion's Mirror)

"Proper care of hair and scalp does not mean time-consuming and expensive trips to the hair-dresser's. Simplicity is the keynote—just an occasional brushing of scalp and hair on which has been sprinkled a tablespoonful of dry shampoo mixture. This is brushed through and out of the hair, and with it comes all dust, dandruff and excess oil.

"To prepare the dry shampoo, mix together either 4 ounces of orris root or corn meal and 4 ounces thorax. Keep in either-top can and use once or twice each week. After a few shampoos dull, 'stringy' lifeless or brittle hair grows wonderfully soft, silky and lustrous. Continued using induces a luxuriant growth."

The fine sweaters the young ladies are wearing come from the Patterson-Fletcher Co. store.

POCKET PIECE BROUGHT LUCK.

Grocery Clerk Carried It Fifty-five Years and Now It's Worth Fortune.

(Los Angeles Times.)

The grimly humorous goddess of fortunes, good and ill, never wrought for the heroes of a Scheherazade or a Hans Andersen a stranger trick than that by which she recently thrust a fortune into the pocket of an un-pecting grocer's clerk of Los Angeles.

He is Charles L. Cross, a clerk for Frank A. Valle, a grocer of South Main street. For nearly fifty-five years he has carried as a lucky pocket piece a silver half dollar of the same date as the year of his birth, 1853.

And it has justified his faith in its luckiness at least, for from being merely a battered and worn four-bit piece of ancient vintage, and doubted beauty, it has suddenly leaped to relatively enormous value as the second known coin of that date in existence.

In cold cash its increase is worth 60,000 per cent. of its face figure.

Twenty-five hundred dollars was refused with scorn by the owner of the only other 1853 half dollar known to exist—rated as the most valuable coin now in the exhibit of the American Numismatic association in Chicago. There are few individual coins of greater value by record of their rarity than the 1853 half dollar, even the historic dollar of 1804 taking a back seat, when it comes to relative scarcity.

More than half a century ago, in his native town of Niles, Mich., the coin was given to Cross as a birthday present because it was struck off in the same year of his birth. It went into the pocket of young Charles' first pair of pants, and in his trousers pocket it has remained ever since. The trousers have changed from time to time, but the coin has never left his possession

IS ONE OF THE OLD EMPLOYEES AT THE ROUND HOUSE.

While not as old as some of the other employees, Joseph Labbe is second in term of service at the Pennsylvania round house, today marking the beginning of his thirty-seventh year as an employee there. Peter Polry has been there a year longer, but none other has been on the pay rolls at the round house so many years. Mr. Labbe was born in Germany, but his parents, grandparents and a long line of ancestors were French people. When twenty-one years old Mr. Labbe left his German home and came to America to make a new home for himself. For awhile he lived in some of the eastern cities and in 1874—thirty-seven years ago—he came to Fort Wayne, and October 3 of the following year took employment at the Pennsylvania round house and has been there since. Soon after beginning he was assigned the work of preparing engines for the road service—building fire in them, looking after the oil and other appliances— a position which in round house parlance is "engine preparer." This was his duty for twenty-five years, when he was made tool inspector, the duties of which are less arduous, though just as responsible as were the duties formerly assigned him. Mr. Labbe has in his make-up traits which make him popular with his acquaintances, and particularly with the men who are associated with him in round house work. Mr. and Mrs. Labbe have several children, one of whom, Joseph Labbe, Jr., is also employed at the Pennsylvania shops. The Labbe home is at 812 Madison street.

His fellow men, he obtained the esteem of all. News of his death was carried to the shops this morning and it was a great shock to the men.

HOLD CHURCH IN A CAR.

Failure in several attempts to organize and build a church in Brewster, the Wheeling and Lake Erie terminal south of Massillon, Ohio, has resulted in meetings being held in a car, located upon a siding near the station. The pastor is Rev. Walter Sparks and with his family he lives in one end of the car. The other portion has been fitted with pews and seats and will accommodate 125 people. Brewster has no church. It has four saloons, however, each doing a good business, to the disgust of the W. & L. E. officials. The latter fitted up the car for meeting purposes.

BEGAN CAREER IN FORT WAYNE.

The Boston Globe publishes the appointment of William F. Ray to the office of superintendent of the Portland division of the Boston and Maine road, together with his railway career. According to the Globe Mr. Ray was born in Fort Wayne and began his railway career in the Wabash shops forty years ago, when his father was master mechanic of the local Wabash shops. The family moved east when William was a young man and he has made only two or three visits here since. Some of the old residents remember him.

RETURNS TO OLD EMPLOYER.

Joseph Gruber is again an employee of the Pennsylvania company and left yesterday for Allegheny to work at his trade, that of machinist. In the company's shops, Joseph learned his trade in the local Pennsylvania shops, but for several months has been working in the Decatur automobile

Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. Mr. Kirby began his railway work in the capacity of a student in the telegraph department of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton road. He will return here and resume work Monday.

IN SERVICE 27 YEARS.

Twenty-seven years ago today George Poyser, then a lad in the teens, commenced an apprenticeship in the mechanical department of the Wabash shops. He is still employed there and worked today as usual. Mr. Poyser is a son of the late Hiram Poyser, who had charge of the carpenter department of the Wabash shops a half century. Another son is William F. Poyser, who succeeded his father at the carpenter shop.

HIRED MORE MEN.

The Wabash shops have more work than the present force can perform in the allotted hours for shop work and are taking on more men nearly every day. The new men today are Frank Chapman, Harry Limbach, George M. Wood and Peter VanRiger.

DR. GARNER CALLS IT MOCK MODESTY

Scores Public's Usual Attitude Regarding Social Hygiene.

NEED TO KNOW TRUTH

Before a large audience at Library hall last evening Dr. John L. Garner assailed the usual position of society with reference to questions of social hygiene, declaring it mock-modesty and asserting that it is a subject upon which for its own vital welfare mankind ought to study thoroughly and know the truth.

It was the first of a series of lectures to be given by Dr. Garner under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, and it was supplemented by an illustrated address by Prof. Allen T. Poulsen with the aid of the stereopticon used in driving home the presentations of Dr. Garner's theme. That the effect was striking there can be no doubt, for the speaker dealt plainly with a subject that is usually touched upon only with reticence.

"Some one has remarked," said Dr. Garner, "that 'prejudice squints when she looks and lies when she speaks.'"

Pasteur said when asked regarding a certain question, "I don't know; I will investigate." This is the attitude all should assume when investigating any proposition. The position taken by society on social hygiene is that of mock-modesty owing to the sexual conceptions of the highest functions of the body, viz.: that of reproduction of the human family.

"On account of this feeling by society the child is not taught how to preserve its mind and body from designing men and women, hence falls an easy prey to the social vices and becomes infected with venereal diseases—the 'great black plague,' which causes more sickness and death than all other diseases combined.

"In thirty years' experience in studying and lecturing on this subject my conclusions are that every man or woman who objects to the truth being taught on social hygiene is immoral in thought and action or is a moral coward."

Dr. Garner in the course of his address quoted statistics to show the blighting effect upon society of diseases which follow a failure to properly appreciate and understand the highest type of social hygiene in the preservation of personal purity; and Prof. Poulsen's pictures illustrated the methods employed by those who follow the "white slave" traffic in luring young girls into their power.

Dr. Garner's theme this evening is "Hereditry." A talk to women only will be given on Thursday afternoon when the subject is "Segregation," while in the evening the address will be to the general public on "The Double Standard." Friday afternoon is again exclusively for women, the subject being "Innocent Victims; Infanticide." While the final lecture Friday night will be on "Man's Necessity."

THE PROBLEM OF THE GARDEN.

In Germany a Small Plot is a Necessary Adjunct to a House.

(European Letter.)

As in England and in other countries, the problem of housing the working classes is deeply engaging the attention of the Germans. The ideal is to obtain fresh air, plenty of light, the privacy which the householder naturally desires, and above all a strip of garden, however small, where his children can play in the open air and he himself can enjoy repose in his leisure hours.

In many German cities the problem has been largely solved, and Dresden, Strasburg, Nuremberg, Karlsruhe, Essen and other towns already have garden settlements where thousands of working families live happily and in comfort. The solution is not so easy in Berlin, owing to the ever rising value of land, but it is not considered to be beyond reach, and at least a half dozen societies are planning and constructing garden colonies for the working classes.

An exhibition arranged by one of these societies has just been opened and shows such a colony ready for habitation. It contains two sorts of houses, one standing by itself, the other forming one of a row, the rent of the former being naturally slightly higher than that of the latter. It has been found that the houses can be let profitably at the rate of less than $2 a square yard a year, so that a two-

MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

A Delightful Toilet Article Used by Leading Society Women.

The leading society women in New York now have a new fad that was brought from Paris recently—the use of Beauty Blush, a dainty liquid for the complexion.

This protects the skin from the wind, sun and dust and is marvelously effective in gaining a clear, rosy complexion, curing freckles, pimples, blackheads and other blemishes.

Beauty Blush is used instead of the dry powders which clog the pores and change the skin to a muddy, sallow appearance. It is non-greasy and has no tendency whatever to cause a hairy growth.

When the skin is heated from dancing, boating or tennis-playing Beauty Blush should be applied, as it will absolutely overcome any greasy appearance.

You can get a liberal size bottle of Beauty Blush from Meyer Bros. Co. for 50c and every woman who desires a good complexion should have it on her toilet table. Money refunded if not satisfactory.

WHAT ALIMONY WILL DO.

If This Woman Gets it She Will Start A Chicken Farm.

(New York Times.)

Mrs. Annie Monroe, wife of George W. Monroe, the actor, asked Supreme Court Justice Pendleton yesterday for $100 a week pending the settlement of her suit for divorce, saying that she wanted the money to establish a chicken farm on Long Island to support herself and daughter.

Mrs. Monroe started her suit several days ago, the actor's niece serving him with papers on the evening of the same day that his wife and others had broken into his room in a hotel.

Counsel for Mrs. Monroe said that the couple had been separated for several years, and that the actor had paid his wife $25 a week, besides giving her $1,000 in cash and some property at Bellport, L. I., when they separated. With the cash and the proceeds of the sale of the property, the lawyer said, Mrs. Monroe, her mother and daughter went to Europe, and that when they had exhausted their money Monroe sent them cash to get home.

Since then, the lawyer said, the actor had established his wife in a house at Elmhurst, L. I., and had bought her a motor car, but that she had disposed of this in his absence on a road tour. Justice Pendleton reserved decision.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

AVIATOR RODGERS AFTER HIS FALL.

"The Fortune Hunter," tonight. "The Fortune Hunter," Winchell Smith's great comedy, which is to be the first time tonight at the Majestic theater, is one of the biggest successes the firm of Cohan & Harris have had since forming their partnership seven years ago.

This play was first produced at the Gaiety theater, New York in September, 1908, and ran through two solid seasons and the returning summer with about four weeks layoff during the real hot spell.

Probably no play produced in this generation has been the theme of so much discussion as "The Fortune Hunter." Editorials have been written about it, in fact the New York Journal devoted a whole page of its valuable paper to the praises of the play, and strongly urged all Americans to see it.

Its moral tone and clean atmosphere have been the subject of many pulpits, and the lesson suggested and to plainly evident in its climax has been the means of a dramatic uplift that has benefited the stage in general and the world at large.

Elsie Janis in "The Slim Princess." Miss Elsie Janis comes to the Majestic Thursday night in "The Slim Princess," a musical play in three acts in which she had a tremendously successful run at Charles Dillingham's Globe theater, New York last season.

Miss Janis has made wonderful advancement in her art as a comedienne since she has been a "regular star" under the management of Mr. Dillingham. One would expect to recognize in the tall, graceful, rather queenly young lady of today, the romping, blushing, little travesty artist who used to make some of the serious legitimate actors and actresses wriggle, by the poignancy of her wit and satire when she did "imitations" of them in their greatest moments in the vaudeville.

Miss Janis doesn't disdain to sing and dance—indeed in "The Slim Princess" she does a lot of both, and she even introduces one song in which to the manifest delight of her audience she wickedly demonstrates how Ethel Barrymore, John Drew, George Cohan, Eddie Fox, and even Sarah Bernhardt, might sing a comic song if they escaped the rack. But the profane, Miss Janis doesn't dare to depend any longer upon the little box of tricks with which she used to entertain the patrons of the halls who thronged to see "little Elsie," the wonder child. She is a finished artist now, at the age of 21, an actress of tremendous experience, vital intelligence and legitimate methods. She can sound the depths of pathos where it is necessary as well as point a merry quip in a manner to raise the entire house to a gale of laughter. Her last season in New York proved her one of the favorite stars of the metropolis and in "The Slim Princess" it is said she has the most congenial vehicle for the exploitation of her manifold talents that has yet been furnished her. "The Slim Princess" is a musical comedy of three acts, the making of which involved the happiest collaborations on the part of three remarkably clever men: First George Ade, the humorous philosopher, who wrote the ludicrously funny novelette from which Henry Blossom, the author of "The Red Mill" and "Mlle. Acidite," evolved a scintillatingly funny libretto. And musical illustration was furnished by Leslie Stuart, the gifted composer, who gave us tuneful "Fondora" and other well known light musical plays, and the score is in his happiest vein. Mr. Dillingham surrounded Miss Janis with an exceptionally clever company, including Joseph Cawthorn, the unctions German comedian, and gave the whole production a most sumptuous and elaborate investiture in the way of scenery and costumes. Beside Mr. Cawthorn, the other important principals in the cast of "The Slim Princess" are Jella Pary, Quebec Cassar, May Fields, Ella Rock, Eugene Revere, Charles J. Jodels, Sam Burbank, Douglas Stephenson, Oscar Ragland, Hans Schumann-Helink, and Louis Baum.

"The Heart of Chicago," the play that millions have witnessed in the past seasons of its success, will be the attraction at the Majestic Friday and Saturday, and Saturday matinee.

The play needs little comment as the patrons of this house will remember its previous title and the recollections will probably be most pleasant. It is a story of Chicago in the earlier days, starting from the time of the great Chicago fire, and carries you up to the present time. A pretty love story is nicely interwoven and when the excitement dies down the fun comes up. A number of specialties are introduced.

A POINTED EPIGRAM.

Craig Biddle at a dinner in Newport defended cosmetics and attacked scandal mongering in one neat epigram.

An elderly matron was criticizing certain young girls for using rouge and powder in what she deemed an immodest manner.

"But," said Mr. Biddle, "those girls were educated in France, and over there, as you know, cosmetics are looked on as necessary—the same as we look on bread and meat."

"Nevertheless," said the matron, "I have my suspicions about girls who paint like that."

"Well, as for me," the young man retorted, "I think it is far better for a lady to render her own cheeks than to blacken other ladies' characters."—Philadelphia Times.

THE ANSWER POLITE.

A woman was continually accusing her servant of extravagance without any real cause. The servant always bore this accusation patiently.

One day the servant informed her mistress that the coal had all been consumed. This was followed by the usual remarks on the part of the mistress, who finished up by saying: "You evidently eat them."

The next day the candles were all gone. "Candles gone?" said the mistress. "Why, I bought half a pound only."

The quicker you fry, the better your results

Butter smokes and burns at 329 degrees. Lard at 400 degrees. You can heat Crisco very much hotter than lard and it will not smoke.

Have the Crisco hot enough and it will cook the outside of the food instantly—so that a crust forms and no grease soaks in.

This is the secret of the dry, crisp fried foods that Crisco makes.

Make This Test—Heat Crisco very hot. Drop your doughnuts into it for just one minute. They will come out a rich, golden brown, as dry and light as a baked cake inside. They are very different from doughnuts "soaked" in grease.

Charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, Christ Graff was taken into custody near Poe today by Deputy Sheriff Courdever and Schonefeld and is held in default of bond in the sum of $1,000 for a cutting affray which occurred September 6.

The complaining witness is Earl Marchand. It is alleged that Graff attacked Marchand in or near a saloon at Poe, slugging him across the forehead and in the right arm with a knife. Marchand is said to be a quiet, inoffensive fellow, while Graff is reported to have been "hunting for trouble."

The wound upon Marchand's forehead is nearly healed, but his arm is still in a very bad condition from the stabbing. The charge against Graff is assault and battery with intent to kill.

GAUDY LIGHTS DEPRESS ONE.

If you are suffering from melancholia or think you are going crazy, look about your home for the colored light. Then smash it with an ax.

Gaudy lights in a living room, says Prof. J. R. Gravath, who addressed the convention of illuminating engineers at the Congress hotel, have a more depressing influence upon the spirits than debts or indigestion.

"Red, blue, pale yellow, deep purple or any sort of tinged light glows diffuse rays that are conducive to sadness. If you wish to chase the 'glooms' and summon the 'joys,' have white lights, but see to it that they are properly shaded."

"A glaring light hurts the eyes and troubles the soul as an inharmonious bit of music jars upon the tympanum. It draws the features, causes early wrinkles and robs the face of beauty. There is economy in throwing away lamps when they grow dim," said L. J. Lewinson.—Chicago Examiner.

Mrs. Frank Davis, of 1111 Fairbaird avenue, has been removed to Hope hospital for treatment.

COURTS.

A suit out of the ordinary was filed in the superior court today when John Schweigel made a demand upon William H. and Laura Brinkman for $2,000 because a horse that was allowed to run at large kicked Schweigel's child in the face.

The complaint alleges that the Brinkmans had been warned repeatedly not to permit the horse to run at large on the streets and commons used by the Schweigel child and other children for play grounds and that it was unlawful to do so. It is alleged the child was kicked because it was too young to realize the danger of going near the horse, that its leg bone was broken in three places, that a large sum of money has been expended in medicine and medical attention and that the child is still suffering from the effects of the injury. Emerick & Emrick filed the suit.

To Condemn Property.

Suit has been instituted by the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company against Louis S. Jacob, Henrietta and Caroline Dessauer and the People's Trust and Savings company to condemn the east half of lot No. 4 in Evings' addition.

The company states that it has made every reasonable effort to purchase the property, which is necessary to the erection of the new interurban station and the terminal, but has been unable to do so; that it will take possession and the court will have the value fixed after the manner prescribed by law. Barrett & Morris filed the suit.

Notes of the Courts.

Harry Hess entered a plea of guilty to the charge of stealing a pair of opera glasses worth $5 from the Dan W. Kane store and was fined $5 and costs and sentenced to jail for six months. The jail sentence was suspended.

By the will of the late David Lawrence his entire estate goes to the widow, Caroline A. Lawrence, who is named executrix. After her death the property is to be divided among the children, or in event of their deaths, among the deceased's sisters and brothers.

Lewis L. Gloyd left his life insurance to his daughter, Alice Goff, and $500 to another daughter, Grace V. Gloyd, to be held for her until she becomes of age. The first named daughter gets property at 410 South Clinton street and the residue of real and personal property. J. D. Gloyd, a brother, is named executor.

WILL SPARE THE LADY.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4.—Emil W. Strauss, charged with having alienated the affections of Mrs. Charles A. Patterson before she shot her husband in Denver last week, has authorized the following statement:

"Any statement at this time would not help Mrs. Patterson. The woman is on trial for murder. Her counsel is trying to shape up a defense. It is not an easy case and to have any one at this time make refutations or admissions would in no way assist the defendant. So the best thing to do is to pursue a policy of silence."

"The public may think whatever it wishes, but it is only fair to suspend judgment until after the trial. Then I will give a full and detailed statement concerning my relations with Mrs. Patterson, which will take away the present odium."

MONARCH BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION OF GARY, INDIANA

625 WASHINGTON ST. CAPITAL STOCK $2,000,000

"THE BEST SECURITY ON EARTH IS THE EARTH ITSELF."

There is no place on earth where the first mortgage security is better than in Gary, Ind.; where the investor obtains through this Association from 15 to 16 per cent. yearly, dividends payable quarterly, which borrowers can afford to pay and still own their own homes within a little over seven years for less than what otherwise would be paid for rent, a condition that prevails in no other city in this Union. Five years ago Gary had a population of 47, today it has over 30,000 and from 10 to 15 years hence it will be over 500,000. The reason for this is plain.

The United States Steel Corporation decided that iron and steel could be manufactured and distributed more cheaply from Gary than any other point in the United States, because it represented the central point, by water, between the iron ore beds of the Lake Superior region and the coal fields of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia; because it reached by water the nearest point to the center of population, as shown by U. S. census. It represented the dead center of railroads. It had the advantage of water transportation through the chain of lakes and St. Lawrence to Europe. It will connect by barges canal with the city of New York and by the Chicago and Mississippi rivers reach the gulf, besides being connected by nine great trunk lines of railroad passing directly through it, connecting with every railroad entering Chicago and all railroads touching the great chain of lakes and the St. Lawrence river.

After taking all of these matters into consideration, the United States Steel Corporation has invested over $150,000,000 in building its Steel Mills, covering the lake front for nine miles in distance, and is still expending several million dollars each month.

GARY IS THE ONLY CITY IN THE WORLD THAT WAS EVER FOUNDED WITH SUCH FINANCIAL BACKING.

Among the other large institutions recognizing the advantages of Gary are:

The American Car & Foundry Co., which within the next two or three years will be employing in the neighborhood of 15,000 workmen.

The American Tin Plate Co., which is already employing several thousand workmen, will eventually reach 15,000.

The American Bridge Co., which is also employing thousands of workmen, will also make a vast increase in number.

The American Steel & Wire Co., which will employ 5,000 workmen.

The National Tube Co. has bought a site of several hundred acres and will also employ in the neighborhood of 15,000 workmen.

The Indiana Steel Co. now employs from eight to ten thousand workmen and will increase its number also to 15,000 or more.

The American Locomotive Works have bought a site of 130 acres on which it will employ 8,500 or more workmen.

The Gary Bolt & Nut Co. is now erecting a building in which they will be employing a thousand workmen between now and January 1st next.

The Universal Portland Cement Co., turning out 27,000 barrels of cement daily, employs 6,000 workmen and smaller concerns are being located here continually, so that inside of the next three to five years 100,000 workmen will be required to operate the mills then erected. By estimating five to the family this would give a population of 500,000, therefore, beyond any reasonable doubt the City of Gary within the next few years, will be more than twice the size of Indianapolis, hence the real estate margins on mortgages in the City of Gary will equal the best in the world and this Association is prepared through its board of directors, consisting principally of bankers and bank directors, to invest for its depositors approximately $2,500,000 annually in the erection of new homes, giving each depositor the advantage of thousands of mortgages, based upon buildings erected at actual cost, with the broadest possible margin of safety. Investments confined to Lake County.

Under the laws of the state of Indiana every officer or agent handling funds is obliged to give bonds in excess of any money in their possession. Its depositories also give bonds. The Association is also subject to examination by the state auditor, the same as the state banks. THEREFORE, IT IS STATED POSITIVELY THAT A LOSS IS IMPOSSIBLE ON FUNDS INVESTED THROUGH THIS ASSOCIATION.

In addition to having a vast margin of safety for every dollar invested through this Association, every dollar invested may be converted into cash, at practically a moment's notice, with all dividends declared thereon and Building & Loan Associations are the only class of financial institutions that afford this security and give this advantage.

The loan books of this Corporation are open at all times for the inspection of all parties in interest. Its money is sold at auction to the highest bidder on Tuesday evening of every week and carries interest payable weekly in advance from that time, and dividends will be declared quarterly from July, 1912, but up to that time will be computed by days and any investor can know the exact percentage his money is earning from week to week, but inasmuch as 17 per cent. has been established by reason of sales and outstanding bids, at not less than that figure, and the fact that the operating expense on cash deposits is limited to 2 per cent., the investor may safely assume that he will realize from 15 to 16 per cent. on his investment.

Deposits will be received for fully prepaid stock upon the above terms and conditions in sums ranging $100 to $100,000.

The small saver of money may invest his savings and draw from 15 to 18% on every dollar invested, commencing from date of each payment. Membership fee 50c per $100 share.

The highest reference will be given by any of the manufacturers, bankers or business men of Gary as to the high integrity of this Association.

A visit to Gary and a run through fifty miles of beautiful paved and lighted streets will convince the most skeptical.

Charles Brown Badly Hurt at Bloomington Coal Yards.

Charles Brown, who lives three quarters of a mile from the city on the Leo road, is nursing serious injuries at the St. Joseph's hospital as the result of an accident which happened to him about 9 o'clock this morning at the Kaough Coal company's yards, near the Lake Shore tracks in Bloomington.

Brown, who is employed by the coal company, was about to drive from one of the sheds with a load of fuel. He leaped to the loaded vehicle and the team bolted through the door, scraping him from the top of the door; the frame striking him on the back of his neck, near the base of his brain. The unfortunate man was rendered unconscious and an ambulance was called, in which he was removed to the hospital. He regained consciousness soon after the accident, but as yet the physicians have not determined the extent of his injuries.

He is a married man, about thirty years of age, and has been employed by the Kaough Coal company for several years.

GUY STEELY HAS TURNED AUTHOR

Dodd, Mead & Co. Bring Out "Wally," a Novel by Man Well Known in Fort Wayne.

"Wally," the new novel just published by Dodd, Mead & Co., will be read with unusual interest in Fort Wayne, because of the fact that Guy Steely, the author, is widely acquainted here through his many visits as publicity promoter for various enterprises. Mr. Steely is a Chicago newspaper man, and this, his first novel, promises to bring him fame and fortune. So great has been the demand for the book that, though it has only just reached the market, it is already well in its second edition.

The story of "Wally" is laid in a Nevada mining camp, and it concerns itself with the fortunes of an impetuous youth whose delightful though utterly aimless course through life and the unusual manner in which he finally brings himself to good account, furnish most interesting reading. Of course, "Wally" is a love story, but it is of the proper sort, appealing to men and women alike. It is charmingly western in color and its clever characterization is one of its strongest features.

Mr. Steely's style is graphic, always true to life, and at times intensely dramatic, though its one momentary drawback is relieved by a well-balanced sense of humor. The author tells a good wholesome story in an interesting way, sure to hold the reader through chapter after chapter of the well-conceived plot. There is no doubt of the success of "Wally," for it has the elements of popularity and is a book that can be taken home and read and reread with pleasure and profit. Lovers of real western stories and real western types will find "Wally" delightful.

CUPID IN A DIPLOMATIC ROLE. A Young Clerk Used Strategy to Win a Wealthy Bride.

(Cyclopedia of Anecdotes.) In 1822, M. Labouchere, then a clerk in the banking house of Hope & Co., Amsterdam, was sent by his patrons to Mr. Baring, the London banker, to negotiate a loan. He displayed in the affair so much ability as to entirely win the confidence and esteem of the great English financier.

"Faith," said Labouchere to Baring, "your daughter is a charming creature; I wish I could persuade you to give me her hand."

"Young man, you are joking, for seriously, you must allow that Miss Baring could never become the wife of a simple clerk."

"But," said Labouchere, "if I were in partnership with Mr. Hope?"

"Oh! that would be quite a different thing; that would entirely make up for all other deficiencies."

Returned to Amsterdam, Labouchere said to his patron, "You must take me into partnership."

"My young friend, how can you think of such a thing? It is impossible. You are without fortune, and—"

"But if I become the son-in-law of Mr. Baring?"

"In that case the affair would be soon settled and so you have my word."

Fortified with these two promises, M. Labouchere returned to England, and in two months after married Miss Baring, because Mr. Hope had agreed to take him into partnership; and he thus became allied to the house of Hope & Co. His was a magnificent career.

A GIRL LONGED TO FLY.

So She Asked Claude Grahame-White to Teach Her.

(New York Herald.)

Mr. Claude Grahame-White, the famous English aviator, is constantly besought by young women to teach them to become aviators. Many make application by letter. One of these letters reached him the other day from a point in Missouri.

ter read, "teach me to be a 'planer.' I saw one of them at Kansas City and I think it is just heavenly. I would like to run a Wright monoplane or a Bleriot biplane, but if you have a better flyer I would try that. I think I would look cute running a baby flyer. Pa says he wouldn't mind my having a baby one. Couldn't you bring one out here for a week or so and show me how to run it? I can assure you a good time."

Mr. Grahame-White was compelled to decline the young woman's kind invitation.

GET CURED

Weakness and Disease were formerly looked upon as very unfortunate conditions, because patients did not know where to go for relief, or because medical science had discovered no positive cure for them, but in this age of medical advancement there are few diseases but that will yield to science and skilled treatment such as I use. Since the age of SPECIALISM people readily know where to go for relief. If they remain uncured it is their own fault, and others have but little sympathy for them. In fact, there is an unpleasant aura about those diseased which causes people to shun them. There is an attraction about robust health that draws those of your circle of acquaintances to you. There is a joy about health that must be experienced in order to be appreciated. The satisfaction of being able to look every man and woman in the eye, knowing that your affliction is gone, is worth more than can be valued in dollars to one who has been afflicted. To get cured is not only a duty that you owe yourself, but one you owe your family, your country, your neighbors and your God. I have made a special study of the Nervous System, and have perfected methods that will cure PELVIC DISEASES. I will give you a searching and thorough examination, thus determining the exact location and nature of the disease. I have the most complete and thoroughly equipped office in the city for the cure of Pelvic Diseases. In fact, I am the only exclusive PELVIC SPECIALIST in the city, limiting my practice to the treatment and cure of but FIFTEEN DISEASES, viz: Rupture, Piles, Fistula, Prostatitis, Cystitis, Obstructions, Knotty Veins or Varicocele, Hydroceles, Blood Poison, Nervous Debility, Atrophy, Kidney, Acquired and Specific Diseases.

nature of the disease. I have the most complete and thoroughly equipped office in the city for the cure of Pelvic Diseases. In fact, I am the only exclusive PELVIC SPECIALIST in the city, limiting my practice to the treatment and cure of but FIFTEEN DISEASES, viz: Rupture, Piles, Fistula, Prostatitis, Cystitis, Obstructions, Knotty Veins or Varicocele, Hydroceles, Blood Poison, Nervous Debility, Atrophy, Kidney, Acquired and Specific Diseases.

THE TREATMENT I have used in curing many others who had the diseases and symptoms mentioned below is exactly what I will give you and that YOU ARE SURE TO BE CURED BY TAKING.

VARICOCELE-ENLARGEMENTS—My treatment cure will cause the enlargement or knotty-like condition or varicocele, to at once disappear. I do it without cutting and all symptoms are soon gone.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, FUNCTIONAL DECLINE—If you are weak, nervous, have lost vitality, back pains, no strength or ambition, I can quickly relieve you of all such symptoms of weakness and make you strong.

KIDNEY COMPLAINTS—The majority of these cases I treat are benefited so fast they are cured before they expect it. They don't come back for treatment after I dismiss them—it's a permanent cure.

BLOOD POISON—Treatment for only a short time cures rash, swellings, sore mouth and throat, pains, aches, removes every sign and symptom—it stays cured, and I can assure you the treatment is not ordinary mercury and potash, like other specialists give you.

RUPTURE CURED—The majority of cases cured in a few treatments without cutting, pain or risk. Ninety per cent of Surgical Operations are failures. My records show a perfect cure in 95 per cent of cases treated. I know you will think it impossible to cure ruptures as I do. Let me prove it by what I have done. It will be the happiest time of your life when you return home cured.

FISTULA, PILES—I can cure you so quickly and easily that you will be surprised. I will give you just the result and cure you are looking for without a surgical operation. INHERITED, ACQUIRED AND SPECIFIC DISEASES—Scientifically and quickly cured. No bad results following. If you have been disappointed elsewhere, let me cure you to stay cured.

OBSTRUCTIONS—My cure dissolves obstructions completely, allays all inflammation, cleanses and heals the bladder and kidneys when irritated or congested and restores health and soundness to all parts affected by the disease.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.
Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4.—Heavy receipts in the northwest with signs of a still greater movement close at hand put the wheat market today under pressure. The opening was a shade to 1/4c lower. December started at 97 1/2c to 98c, the same change from last night as the market taken altogether. A decline to 97 1/2c followed.

Corn sagged on account of the prospect that the period of undue moisture had come to an end. December opened a sixteenth to 1/4c down, at 64 1/2c to 65c and fell to 64 1/4c.

Oats eased off with other cereals. December started a shade lower at 47 1/2c and descended to 47c.

Weakness at the market acted as a drag on the market for provisions. Initial sales were 10c cheaper to an advance of 5c, with January delivery $14.97 1/2 for pork, $8.82 1/2 for lard and $7.87 1/2 for ribs.

GIRL SCRAPPERS WERE TOO YOUNG

Trial Started in the City
Court and Had to Be Abandoned.

CITY COURT DOCKET

After the trials of Ruth Farley, sixteen, and Freda D. Hughes, fifteen, had been started in the city court today it was ascertained that both are too young to be tried in any but the juvenile court and Judge Mungovan and Deputy Prosecutor Harry Illigmann were relieved of airing a feud affecting two families living at 1325 and 1327 Buchanan street.

Enmity reached fever heat Saturday night when Ruth Farley attempted to chastise a boy belonging to the Hughes family and Freda interfered with the result that they had a little group on Thomas street, in which all of the ring rules were violated and nothing was barred even to gouging, hair pulling and hitting in the clinches and below the belt in the clinches and Queensberry rules as fouled territory.

Both girls were placed in charge of the probation officer and their cases will be heard by Judge O'Rourke. The city judge and deputy prosecutor attempted to patch up a truce but neither faction would agree and they are determined to fight it out.

AWOKE IN A NIGHTMARE.

A Chicago Man Made a Tidy Sum by a Little Investment.

(Chicago Examiner.)

When the officers of the Chicago Auditorium association awoke and found the Auditorium hotel, the Auditorium theater and the Auditorium building in possession of a stranger and an interloper they hastily prepared to recover the $1,000,000 piece of property that the enterprising George J. Lawton purchased for $48,000 at a tax sale two days ago.

But Lawton was in no hurry to see his somnolent predecessors. He strolled down town to look over his purchase. He breakfasted at the Auditorium hotel, ordered up a box at the theater and walked away a few moments in front of his new office building.

"I rather like my new property," he said.

The law that enabled Lawton to buy the three buildings at the absurdly small price when the county treasurer auctioned the property for delinquent taxes, however, will also protect the Auditorium association. The officers have the privilege of buying back their holdings by paying the tax of $48,000 and giving Lawton a 5 per cent. bonus on the purchase price. According to R. G. Matz, attorney for the association, this will be done at once.

"The oversight of a clerk to whom the payment of taxes had been intrusted was responsible for the auctioning of the property."
